

BALTIMORE CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

American Education Week— a Great Time to Get Involved!

American Education Week takes place November 12 to 19 and offers families a chance to learn more about what's happening in their students' schools—and in Baltimore City Public Schools overall. Please join us for a series of free, informative events, and visit www.baltimorecityschools.org/americaneducationweek for details.

City Schools Sustainability Day

Take part in discussions and workshops about making schools and learning greener in Baltimore City.

Saturday, November 12

8 a.m. to 12 p.m.

*Mergenthaler Vocational-Technical High School
3500 Hillen Rd., Baltimore, MD 21218*

It's Online: Using Parent Portal to Support Your Child

Learn about an online tool that helps you know what and how your child is doing in school.

Thursday, November 17

4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

*Mary Ann Winterling Elementary School
220 N. Bentalou St., Baltimore, MD 21223*

Talking Together: The Importance of Conversation in Your Child's Literacy Development

Find out how talking with your children at home can support learning at a community conversation with Chief Academic Officer Sonja Brookins Santelises.

Thursday, November 17

6 p.m.

The Charles Theater

1711 N. Charles St., Baltimore, MD 21201

Middle and High School Choice Fair

Talk to representatives from City Schools' 64 options for middle and high school—and find the right fit for your student and family.

Saturday, November 19

9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Oriole Park at Camden Yards

333 W. Camden St., Baltimore, MD 21201

