REPORT INTRODUCTION

Purpose of the Report

The renewal report is a summary of findings and a resulting recommendation regarding renewal of the charter or contract for an operator-run school. To inform this recommendation, Baltimore City Public Schools collects and analyzes documentation including the school's renewal application, and an evaluation of the school's performance based on the renewal rubric, the School Effectiveness Review (SER) performed on site at each school and consideration of all other relevant information.

City Schools' renewal criteria are based on state law (§ 9-101, et seq., MD. CODE ANN., EDUC.) and Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners' policy IHBJ and associated administrative regulations (IHBJ-RA and JFA-RA). The Board's policy requires that schools up for renewal be evaluated on multiple measures including, but not limited to, the following:

- Student achievement, constituting at least 50 percent of the renewal score and including measures such as schoolwide performance on state assessments, College and Career Readiness (for schools with high school grades), academic programming for special student populations, and a school's fidelity to its charter
- School climate (chronic absence, suspensions, enrollment trends, school choice data, and school survey results from parents, teachers, and students)
- Financial management and governance (annual audits, school budget submissions, grants management, board documentation; compliance/adherence with federal, state, and local laws, rules, and regulations)
- An overall finding of not effective in any of the key areas (Student Achievement, School Climate, or Financial Management/Governance) may be the basis of a non-renewal decision.

The renewal process is a component of City Schools' annual review of its schools, designed to ensure that students and families across the district have access to school options that meet their interests and needs. The framework was originally developed in 2011 by the Renewal Stakeholders Working Group (composed of school operators from a range of school types, Supporting Public Schools of Choice, and the Maryland Charter School Network) who worked to develop a methodology for evaluating the performance of operator-run schools. The result: a fair, transparent, and rigorous renewal framework that reflects schools' unique nature and innovative contributions to student achievement, used for the first time in the 2012-13 school year, and a process for reviewing and updating the framework each year.

At the conclusion of each year's renewal cycle, staff engages operators and other key stakeholders in a review of the process to identify areas for improvement that could be addressed while still maintaining a level of predictability for schools up for renewal in the following year.

The Process

Based on recommendation of staff and feedback from school operators and other stakeholders following the normal feedback and review cycle, the Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners approved a modified renewal process for school year 2021-22. This modified process was designed to take into considerations the lingering impacts of the Covid19 pandemic on student data while still holding operators accountable to delivering strong programs for students. This year's process takes a focused look at data in the key areas (Student Achievement, School Climate and Effective Financial Management and Governance). Since the scope of certain data items like state assessments is limited, the Board approved modifications so that the only terms schools will be eligible for are either a three-year renewal term or non-renewal<sup>1</sup>. Non-renewal recommendations will be considered for schools where the evidence indicates serious financial sustainability concerns, or inability to comply with critical state, federal and local guidelines that places students, staff or the district at risk. Thus, schools that earn a "Not Effective" rating in any of the following metrics will be recommended for non-renewal by the Charter and Operator-Led Schools Advisory Board to the CEO:

- Effective Programming for Students with Disabilities,
- Audit Content, Internal Controls,
- Operator Capacity, or
- Strategic Leadership/Governance (All of Domain 4 from SER).

If a school is considered for non-renewal based on any of these four metrics, the Board will also consider the school's record of renewal and academic performance, as measured in the Academic Success section of the renewal rubric, in making its renewal decision.

In addition to determining the renewal or non-renewal of a school's contract, the renewal process informs the Board and the public on the efficacy of school performance and practices, as well as helping identify areas for growth in schools' planning for their next contract term.

The revised process continues to use the following components:

- Renewal Rubric (Updated to reflect the above changes)
- Application for Renewal
- Data Tables prepared by City Schools
- School Effectiveness Review (Streamlined to include fewer key actions in metrics used in the School Climate section of the renewal rubric)

<sup>1</sup> In the modified renewal process for 2021-22, schools will not be eligible for a 5-year term or 8-year "extended" term. However, the outcome of the 2021-22 renewal process will allow schools to earn progress towards an extended renewal term in the future. According to Board Policy IHBJ – Public Charter Schools, "A public charter school shall only be eligible for an extended renewal term if the school has two or more consecutive full renewals, including demonstrating quality programming for all student groups." For the 2021-22 renewal process, a school that receives "Meets Expectations", "Effective" or "Highly Effective" in each of the four metrics that could lead to non-renewal listed above, as well as "Effective" or "Highly Effective" in the overall Academics section, will be considered to have earned a full renewal for their progress towards an 8-year extended renewal in future renewal processes.

The process starts with a review by the Charter and Operator-led Schools Advisory Board, whose members represent foundations, nonprofit organizations, school choice advocates, school operators, and district representatives; and whose function is to provide advice to the CEO on renewal and other issues as they relate to operator-led schools. In performing its review, the Advisory Board looks at all data and information, both quantitative and qualitative, to make sound recommendations to the CEO. After its review of the components above, the Advisory Board makes recommendations to City Schools’ CEO on whether charters or contracts should be renewed. The CEO considers the recommendations and the quantitative and qualitative review, and then makes her own recommendation to the Board. In some instances, the nature or severity of an issue raised during the renewal process is serious enough to give it extra weight in formulating the renewal recommendation and, ultimately, the renewal decision, especially in instances where the issue affects the wellbeing of students, staff, or the district as a whole.

The ultimate decision on all operator renewals rests with the Board, which considers the recommendations and rationale of the CEO, the operator renewal report, testimony given at public Board meetings and work sessions, the contents of the official record and the factors listed in policy IHBJ and administrative regulation IHBJ-RA for charter schools, and policy FCA and administrative regulation FCA-RA for non-charter schools. This includes the Board’s ability to consider prior partial renewal terms afforded to operators who have had serious challenges in the prior renewal that remain issues that continue to affect the wellbeing of students, staff, or the district as a whole based on evidence in this renewal process. In particular, as Policy IHBJ states, “[t]he Board may decide that a public charter school is not eligible for two consecutive partial renewals.”

The Green School of Baltimore #332

Operator: Experiential Environmental Education, Inc.
Configuration: Elementary
Type: Charter
Enrollment: 158<sup>2</sup>

Recommendation

3-year renewal

Discussion

On January 11, 2022, the Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners voted to renew the contract with Experiential Environmental Education, Inc. to operate The Green School of Baltimore for a three-year term running from July 1, 2022 to June 30, 2025.

The school was rated “Meets Expectations” in Audits/Internal Controls, and “Effective” in Effective Programming for Students with Disabilities, and Operator Capacity, and “Highly Effective” in Strategic Leadership/Governance. The school was rated “Effective” in Academics.

The state performance ratings are based on the most recent years when the state assessment was given which are for school years 2016-17, 2017-18, and 2018-19. The Green School of Baltimore was rated “Effective” or “Highly Effective” in four of six PARCC performance metrics considered in the renewal rubric. For PARCC absolute performance (2018-19), schools are compared to schools with similar levels of students considered economically disadvantaged (ED) because absolute performance on assessments is highly correlated to the relative wealth of student populations. In this measure, the school was rated “Developing” for both math 3-5 (60th percentile in the ED comparison group) and ELA 3-5 (56th percentile). In PARCC growth performance, which looks at the extent to which a school can improve individual student performance year to year over the three-year period considered, the school was rated “Highly Effective” in PARCC achievement growth in math 3-5 (89th percentile overall) and “Effective” in ELA 3-5 (66th percentile).

In its previous renewal, significant gaps in performance between white and black students were noted in The Green School’s data. Over the course of its current contract, it is clear that school leadership and staff have taken significant steps to address concerns in this area. While the school’s efforts to address gaps between different student groups have not yet been fully borne out in student performance data, leading to the school’s “Developing” rating in Effective Programming for All Student Racial and Ethnic Groups, The Green School should be recognized for the steps it has taken to ensure equitable, high-quality instruction for all student groups. The school is “making progress in delivering quality programming for all student racial groups and is aware of its data for all student groups<sup>3</sup>.” The school has implemented an antibias framework to guide instruction at all grade levels and attention to performance of different demographic groups is evident throughout the data cycle used by the school. The school also uses a Response to Intervention approach to ensure that all students have access to grade-level-appropriate instruction while also receiving interventions to address any areas where they need more intensive support. The school is also working to diversify its teachers and staff and is participating in professional development on culturally responsive and anti-racist teaching strategies. Since the school has started this increased focus on ensuring equitable instruction across racial groups, achievement of black students saw gains in both ELA and math. These gains did not yet raise achievement into the range where the school could be considered effective in the metric. However, the school is making a strong effort that will hopefully show further positive results with the resumption of state assessments in the current year and into the future.

The Green School of Baltimore was rated “Effective” in Fidelity to Charter/Application Overall indicating that “the school has implemented the mission expressed in its charter application and mission is clear to most stakeholders.” The school’s mission to “improve student achievement and increase stewardship for the natural world through hands-on, project-based learning” is evident in school programming where students at each grade level engage in year-long inquiry on essential questions, culminating in environmental projects in and around the school. The school has also “made a good to fair effort to gather data to assess its efficacy and has implemented effective strategies to address any challenges evident in the data, particularly in the areas of student performance, enrollment, student attendance, dropout rates, attrition and student choice data/school demand.” The school’s renewal application describes strong practices monitoring data and engaging students and families to ensure strong attendance and low chronic absence, both areas where the school significantly outperforms the district average. The school also has strong enrollment and cohort retention, which is the percentage of students who choose to remain at the school at least two years after initial entry.

The school was rated “Effective” in Effective Programming for Students with Disabilities. Evidence shows the school has “demonstrated a trajectory of growth, is aware of its data and responsibilities to students with disabilities, has minimum gaps or has decreased gaps in the data as it relates to performance and climate metrics for students with disabilities over time, and has generally implemented appropriate processes, interventions and strategies to support student outcomes over the course of the contract.” The school has implemented strong data and instructional strategies for students with disabilities, which has led to increasing student performance from 2017 to 2019. In addition, an audit of school practices conducted by the Office of Special Education showed the school has strong practices in place that ensure students with disabilities are receiving appropriate instruction and services. However, the school must continue to monitor attendance, chronic absence and suspension for students with disabilities, which all showed weaker data in the final year looked at in the review.
